the Other Beaten.

A man who says he is John Cosgrove, of 142 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, was held for the Grand Jury by Justice Tighe, in the Butler Street Police Court. Brooklyn, to-day, on the charge of breaking into the house of Mary Jane and Sarah Mitchell, of 417 Fifth avenue, and stealing a quantity of jewelry. Cosgrove is thick-set, and about forty years old.

The Mitchell sisters are well along in years, and live in a handsomely furnished house. When they entered the house by the basement door at 8 P. M. yesterday they found everything turned upside down and in great disorder. The sisters went up to the parlor floor. "Shoot her! Snoot her!"

By this time Sarah was mounting the stairs. She is quite corpulent, and climbed very slowly. One of the men made for Mary, while the other dashed for the stairs. Mary received a blow in the left eye which staggered her. The burglar who started for the stairs met Sarah about half way. He ran against her at great speed, at the same time giving her a push, which sent her rolling to the bottom of the staircase. The burglars jumped over her body and escaped to the street. Mary followed them, crying:

caped to the street. Mary followes them, crying:
"Help! Help! Burglars!"
Policeman Bennett, of the Fifth avenue station, responded, and started to look for the burglars. Dr. Wild was summined to attend Sarah, who was lying inconscious in the hallway.
Bennett captured one of the men in a back yard on Sixth street, near Sixth avenue. In the prisoner's possession a back yard on Sixth street, near Sixth avenue. In the prisoner's possession were found two watches, gold earrings, gold bracelets, two pairs of shears and 30 in cash. Mary Mitchell identified the man and the jewelry.

The police find that no such person as Cosgrove ever lived at 142 Atlantic avenue. They think he is a New York crook.

Cogrove pleaded not guilty, but re-fused to cross-examine the witnesses against him.

was held for examination.

Last evening Fines was creating a disturbance in front of 102 Clay street while intoxicated, and the officer came along and arrested him.

Fines is a big powerful man, and he grabbed Bowes around the waist, lifted him in the air, and threw him into the gutter, stunning him for a moment. Howes quickly revived, however, and attacked Fines. The latter got the officer's revolver and struck him over the head with it, knocking him down again.

AN EIGHT-YEAR-OLD THIEF.

Young Traub Treated the Boy with His Big Roll of Booty.

(Special to The Evening World.) LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 14.-Last evening Edward Traub, eight years old, son of Albert Traub, of this place. entered the house of S. P. Benedict on Third avenue, and stole $67.50 from pocketbook, which Mrs. Benedict had left lying upon the table.

ward Queenstown record has been cut down three hours and twenty-nine minutes during the year.

The westward Queenstown record—5 days, 12 hours and 47 minutes—also made Nov. 3, 1893, was held, at the beginning of the year, by the Lucania. This was lowered by the Campania Aug. 17 three hourse and eighteen minutes, when she arrived here in 5 days, 9 hours and 22 minutes, and Aug. 31 the Lucania made the trip in 5 days, 8 hours and 38 minutes, cutting down the Campania 38 minutes, cutting down the Campania's record fifty-one minutes. The westward Queenstown record has thus been reduced this year four hours and nine minutes.

Another Queenstown record-breaker, so far as her own time is concerned, is that of the White Star steamer Britannic. The Britannic is twenty years old, and has never done anything remarkable in the way of fast trips as compared with the records of the present day. She has been looked on as an eight and a half day boat, but July 26 inst she created a mild sensation when the came into this port in 7 days, 12 hours and 45 minutes, nearly twenty-four hours ahead of her usual time.

The western Soutamapton record has also been broken this year. The time of the Paris, 6 days, nine hours and 37 minutes, made July 21, 1839, was the record until Aug. 24, of this year, when her sister ship, the New York, came in in 6 days, 8 hours and 35 minutes, lowering the record 59 minutes.

The Foerst Bismarck still holds the eastward Southampton record, 6 days, 19 hours and 55 minutes, made Sept. 28, 1838. Young Traub was taking some pear from a tree in an adjoining yard. H saw Mrs. Benedict go out into the yard saw Mrs. Benedict go out into the yard and when she got out of sight he entered the house, empited the pocketbook of its contents and escaped.

When Mrs. Benedict returned to the house she did not notice that her pocketbook had been tampered with and picked it up and started for downtown to the store. After making several purchases, she opened the purse to get the money and found it entirely empiled.

Her husband, who is a shoc clerk in Jacob Steinbach's store, made the robbery known to Chief of Police Layton. Half an hour after the report was made, Officer Henry Lankeman, of the West End force, came to the Town Hall with young Traub.

Shortly after the boy had committed the robbery he was going through the town fourishing a roll of bills, before a large.
